

West Side and City Edition

BATTENBURG-FORSTER NUPTIALS.

Ceremony Performed by Rev. J. B. Sweet at the Bride's Home.

Two prominent young people of the West Side figured as the principals in a very pretty marriage which was solemnized last evening at the home of Mrs. Caroline Forster, of 322 North Lincoln avenue, when Charles C. Battenburg, of Broadway avenue, and Miss Margaret, the daughter of Mrs. Forster, were united in marriage at 8.30 o'clock. The house was neatly trimmed with potted plants and evergreens. At the appointed hour, the bride and groom walked to the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march which was played by Clarence Phillips, a nephew of the bride.

A very pretty feature was six young people, all nicely arranged in white and carrying bouquets, who preceded the couple to the parlor. Their names are: Russell, Carrie, Lillian, Myrtle, Ethel and Lena Forster. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. The ushers were William Forster and John Miller. The bride wore a handsome dress of white orwale and carried lilacs of the valley. She was unattended.

After the ceremony a supper was served and the young people were warmly congratulated. They left on the 1.29 Delaware Lackawanna and Western train this morning for New York on a wedding trip. Later they will go to housekeeping on Lincoln avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Battenburg are well known. The former is employed at Honore's lumber yard and is a trust-employee. His wife is a handsome and talented young lady, and both have attained high social distinction. They have the best wishes of their friends.

Following is a list of the guests in attendance at the reception: Mrs. Caroline Forster, Scranton; Mr. and Mrs. C. Battenburg, Misses Helen and Carrie Battenburg, Annie Gerbig and Carl Gerbig, Edward T. Calloway, Ernest and Roy Battenburg and C. A. Battenburg, Esq., Archibald, Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Battenburg, Mr. and Mrs. William Morton, Mrs. Joseph Forster, Mrs. Lucy Bauer, the Misses Carrie Miller, Cora and Ethel Phillips, Helen Niemeyer, Minnie Bauer, Marie A. Jones, Jennie Reinhart, Susan and Lena Peuser, Carrie and Lillian Forster, Lena and Myrtle Miller, Messrs. P. A. Miller, William Forster, Frank Miller, Clarence, Russell and Willard Phillips.

A NEIGHBORLY WAR.

John J. Roland, of Keyser avenue, appeared before Alderman Kellow, of the Fourteenth ward, last evening and charged Brahmin Green, a next door neighbor, with the "use of vile language and threats of doing him bodily harm." Green was arrested and on being brought before the alderman he admitted his saying he could "break Roland in two," but did not swear at him. The trouble seems to have arisen from no cause whatever. Green boards with Mrs. Timmins, of Keyser avenue, and was asleep yesterday afternoon when Roland came to the house and inquired for him. When Green awoke he went over to Roland's to see what he was in his (Roland's) barn. He wanted to know if Roland had anything against him or if he (Green) had ever done anything against him, meaning Roland. Upon Roland's answering in the negative, Green commenced to curse him and said that he could "break Roland in two." Mrs. Roland, who is a cripple, fearing for the safety of her husband, came out of the house and Mrs. Timmins, the boarding mistress, came to Green's aid. Mrs. Timmins made mention in a stirring manner of Mrs. Roland's affliction and seemed very much inclined to abuse her otherwise. Green and Mrs. Timmins were held in $200 bail each for their appearance at court.

STRUCK HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

A novel suit in which a wife appears against her husband in the interests of her brother, was heard before Alderman Daniel Moses last evening. Late yesterday afternoon as Mrs. Kate O'Malley, of 25 Eymon street, was preparing supper for her husband and two brothers who board at the O'Malley home, James O'Malley, the husband, made a remark in reference to one of the brothers. He followed up his remark by striking Patrick Kelly, the other brother on the head with a stove-shaker, inflicting a deep gash on the left side of the head, near the temple. Mrs. O'Malley promptly had him arrested and he was committed to jail in default of $500 bail. O'Malley claimed afterwards that he had struck Patrick with a heavy stick and not a stove-shaker, and that he was only "getting even" for a similar blow given him a short time ago by Patrick. He (James) did not believe in going to law and so wanted to get a crack in exchange.

MAYKULAK IS IN JAIL.

The bump of humor is lacking in the make-up of Samuel Aronovitz, of 713 Scranton street. So claims Wasil Maykulak, of Bribbin patch. Alderman

John J. Kelly, of the Eighteenth ward, as adjudicator, deems otherwise and he's V's all in $200 bail for his appearance at court. Upon the failure of Maykulak to furnish the bail he was committed to the county jail. The discussion between Samuel and Wasil occurred on Tuesday and was brought about by the giving of some pastry to Maykulak by Aronovitz, who is a grocer. Wasil refused to allow these articles to be charged and this "joke" was not appreciated by the grocer. How events proceeded to the point where Wasil was still retained by Wasil and no charge made on his books Aronovitz charged him before the alderman and now Wasil repines in jail and some one else enjoys the pastry.

WALKED IN HER SLEEP.

A three year child of Mr. and Mrs. Bone, of Jackson street, has somnambulant tendencies which are decidedly unusual in a mere baby, just able to walk. At 11.30 o'clock Tuesday night John J. Durkin and President of the Board of Control T. J. Jennings were coming up Jackson street when they saw a small bundle of white moving timbly about. The bundle was the little Bone girl dressed in her night gown and barefooted. The baby could not talk and partly all good words were abed at that hour. After several hours search the parents of the child were ascertained and the little one was taken home. The house door was open but the rest of the family were asleep. Mr. Bone, the father of the child, was awakened and presented with the child. No one in the house had missed her. At 2 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Bone awoke suddenly and discovered the child again going down the stairs. Her eyes were shut.

DRUNK TWENTY YEARS.

A correspondent writes: "I was drunk on and off for twenty years, drunk when I had money, sober when I had none. Many clear friends I had, and numbers gave me good advice to no purpose; but thank God an angel came to me in the form of my good wife, who administered my marvelous remedy, 'Anti-Jag,' to me without my knowledge or consent. I am now saved and completely transformed from a worthless 'drunkard' to a sober and respectable citizen. 'Anti-Jag' cannot be had at your drug-gist. It will be mailed in plain wrapper with full directions how to use it, on receipt of one dollar, by the Revons Chemical Co., 60 Broadway, New York, or they will gladly mail full particulars free.

PROVIDENCE.

In the North Main Avenue Baptist church last evening a pretty wedding took place. The contracting parties were Peter Hill and Nellie Hamilton, two of the North End's most popular young people. The church was not large enough to contain the friends of the young couple, who had assembled for the purpose of witnessing the ceremony. At about 8.30 o'clock the bridal party appeared at the entrance of the church and marched down the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, which was played by Mrs. Alle Blackman. The wedding party proceeded to the altar, which was elaborately decorated with a profusion of palms, roses and other choice flowers, and were met there by the Rev. W. G. Watkins, who pronounced the impressive words that made them man and wife. Thomas Hill was best man and Miss Annie Brace was bridesmaid. After the ceremony the young couple were driven to the bride's home on Court street, where a wedding feast was served to their friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will begin housekeeping immediately in a handsomely furnished house in Park place.

His Wife Has Him Arrested for Assault and Battery.

Dr. William Haggerty was arrested last evening for assaulting his wife, Mrs. Annie Haggerty, formerly Miss Annie Muldoon, of the South Side. Mrs. Haggerty swore out the warrant before Alderman Millar. A woman, she said, was in Dr. Haggerty's private office and the doors were shut. Mrs. Haggerty asked the house servant who was with her husband and though she never before did such a thing, she says, Mrs. Haggerty opened the door of the office and peeped in. She saw a young woman sitting on Dr. Haggerty's knee and he had his arms about her. This angered Mrs. Haggerty and she rushed into the room. She admits picking up a mousetrap from her nose, her face was noticeably swollen and her hair was disordered. Between her sobs she told her story to Alderman Millar.
